The last 2 days about an hour after I arrive home from a 40 min back road commute, I've noticed that the blower on my 2000 Volvo S80(heater/AC) fan is running. When I put the key in and move it to the first position and then off, it turns the blower off. My check engine light has been on for a while but was last summer also and seems to go on and off depending on the
